> Good morning Mr. Holcomb,
 > I'm not technology savvy either, but I followed the prompts and I was able to access your book.
 > The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) received your submission on July 14, 2009, requesting prepublication review of your manuscript titled, "Holcomb Manuscript."
 > The FBI's prepublication review policy provided for a review period of thirty business days not counting the day of receipt. This review period can be extended depending upon the complexity of the materials being reviewed, but in most cases the reviews are completed within the thirty business day period. A review of your submission is in progress and we will advise of the results upon completion.

Hello [redacted]

I am [redacted] Coordinator of the Prepublication Review Office. My office's function is to review intended publications by current/former FBI employees to determine if the employee has included information obtained during FBI employment, which should not otherwise be released. Examples would be classified information, Rule 6e, sensitive techniques, pending investigations or prosecutions, personal privacy info, FBI information not available to the general public through means such as FIONA, the media or court records, etc.

As is more common than not, it is necessary that we call upon FBI "subject matter experts" to review the submissions of current/former FBI employees as the subject matter at issue is beyond the general expertise of my employees. It is in that regard, that I am contacting you.

Would you please have someone in your office review a portion of a manuscript that we received from Former Special Agent Raymond W. Holcomb (Retired) titled, "Holcomb Manuscript." These pages of Former SA [redacted] Holcomb's manuscript detailing his involvement with [redacted] are being sent to you from the [redacted]

[redacted] Please provide us your conclusions regarding the information in question. Should you have questions, please feel free to call or email me.

General Rules-We have 30 business days to respond to the author. We would like to respond to the requester as soon as we can. Also, as the material is proprietary information, it is not to be disclosed/shared beyond those persons involved in the review process.

Thank you

Thanks, [REDACTED] for the response. As I've said before, I am local ([REDACTED]), and I believe we could easily address any points of concern, if only someone would let me know what they are. If the concern is that in a few instances agent's true names are used, that is because he/she is either retired or the agent has given public interviews or is already mentioned in articles or books. I determined that by running names through Google and other search engines.

Again, I'm certain that any issues or concerns identified can be quickly rectified.

I hope you have a good holiday.

[redacted] thanks for getting back. Wednesday is good for me. I will work around your schedule. Thursday morning is the only bad time this week for me. I currently work at [redacted].

b6 -1,-2

I would love the chance to talk with your Section Chief or anyone who might help push this forward. I know there's only so much you can do (I haven't been gone that long!), and I know I can work the issues out quickly if given the chance. I understand it's just a matter of getting the reviewers to take the time out of their busy schedules to read the material. They've had this material for months now.

In any event, I'll do whatever it takes, and that includes meeting personally with the reviewers if that works.

Again, taken in its entirety this is a very complimentary story about the FBI and we all know that the Bureau can always use some good news in the public's eye.

I understand if it's icy on Wednesday, particularly since I know what it can get like out your way. We can certainly reschedule. I really, really appreciate any help you can give.

[REDACTED] b7E -3

I'm addressing the matter of using agent's true names. I will obtain the permission of some and make sure that all the others are psuedonyms.
Once I receive the letter you are sending me I can better discern what issues the editors have with the above. I note that the Pre-Publication Guidelines clearly state that "The FBI will not assert prepublication objections because a proposed disclosure is critical or disparaging of the FBI, the government, or any individual..."
I will also provide you with a list of some of the many open source publications, such as news articles, the 9/11 Commission Report, etc., where most of what is disputed by the editors is already published.
Finally, I note that the Guidelines provide for censoring of information that a current employee wishes to publish if that would cause disruption in the workplace. That, of course, is not the case here.
I really appreciate your help.

Hi Mr. Holcomb,

I just left you a voice mail. All but one of the issues has been resolved. Mr. Hardy reviewed the documents that you sent and the explanation you provided were determined to justify the inclusion of the specified amendments 2, 3, 4, 8 and 9. Please use the alternative wording you provided for amendment 5 and 7. I have to check with Mr. Hardy on amendment 6. I wasn't able find any thing specific for that on the Internet. He is out today but will be here tomorrow. I'm sorry for the inconvenience.

Thank you

By way of note, I reviewed a book this weekend called "The Ground Truth" by John Farmer who was Senior Counsel to the 9/11 Commission. He addresses in detail the issues of the lack of intel sharing between the NSA, the CIA and the FBI. If you're interested I would refer you to pages 44, "...the Hamburg Cell managed to penetrate the United States without raising a single flag.", 70 "The results were, in retrospect, absurd. The FBI, investigating the embassy bombings, learns of the importance of a phone in Yemen belonging to Midhar's father-in-law; it passes the number along to the NSA and the CIA, which learn of Midhar's terrorist ties to Kallad and others..... . This information they refuse to pass back to the FBI....", pgs. 76, 78, and a number more. Again, this is the Senior Counsel and all his information is based on interviews and testimony, a good deal from the FBI.

Thanks. Hope you have a good day.

Hi, [REDACTED] I hope you had a wonderful holiday. Now for the tough time of the year. b6 -2
 I want to show you an example of the endless material that is on the internet and which pertains to those areas I am being told are "too sensitive" to discuss.
 This one article is from the New York Times and deals with the Hamburg Cell and what was actually known about the plotters there and what was shared with the FBI.
 I will be sending you my formal response to the initial editing within two or three days. Certainly I can adjust the areas of concern somewhat, but in order to do that I will need to know clearly why these things are sensitive if they are discussed ad nauseum over the internet.
 In any event I will be in touch shortly.
 Thanks for your patience.

 Ray Holcomb

C.I.A. Was Given Data on Hijacker Long Before 9/11

By JAMES RISEN and ERIC LICHTBLAU

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 — American investigators were given the first name and telephone number of one of the Sept. 11 hijackers two and a half years before the attacks on New York and Washington, but the United States appears to have failed to pursue the lead aggressively, American and German officials say.

The information — the earliest known signal that the United States received about any of the hijackers — has now become an important element of an independent commission's investigation into the events of Sept. 11, 2001, officials said Monday. It is considered particularly significant because it may have represented a missed opportunity for American officials to penetrate the Qaeda terror cell in Germany that was at the heart of the plot. And it came roughly 16 months before the hijacker showed up at flight schools in the United States. In March 1999, German intelligence officials gave the Central Intelligence Agency the first name and telephone number of Marwan al-Shehhi, and asked the Americans to track him. The name and phone number in the United Arab Emirates had been obtained by the Germans by monitoring the telephone of Mohamed Heidar Zammar, an Islamic militant in Hamburg who was closely linked to the important Qaeda plotters who ultimately masterminded the Sept. 11 attacks, German officials said.

After the Germans passed the information on to the C.I.A., they did not hear from the Americans about the matter until after Sept. 11, a senior German intelligence official said. "There was no response" at the time, the official said. After receiving the tip, the C.I.A. decided that "Marwan" was probably an associate of Osama bin Laden, but never tracked him down, American officials say.

The Germans considered the information on Mr. Shehhi particularly valuable, and the commission is keenly interested in why it apparently did not lead to greater scrutiny of him. The information concerning Mr. Shehhi, the man who took over the controls of United Airlines Flight 175, which flew into the south tower of the World Trade Center, came months earlier than well-documented tips about other hijackers, including two who were discovered to have attended a meeting of militants in Malaysia in January 2000.

[redacted] thanks for the guidance yesterday. I am trying to send you my b6 -2 book manuscript in an encrypted Zip folder. I am told that by condensing the 445 pages onto a Zip folder I should have no problems with overloading servers, etc.. Frankly, I really don't understand all this technology.

Hopefully someone in your office can help you open the folder. I will send you the password in a separate e mail.

During my 23 year career I worked all the major investigative areas, e.g., organized crime, counter intelligence, counter narcotics, and counterterrorism. I retired in January of 2006 and I now work as a consultant in the Washington, D.C. area. I have made every effort to conceal or avoid discussing sensitive or ongoing investigations, but, of course, I can't be sure that the Bureau will agree. This is why I'm sending you the manuscript "encrypted".

During working hours I can generally be reached at [redacted]. I can't bring my cell b6 -1 phone into my work space so I usually check it once or twice a day, and I will try to be prompt in getting back to you.

In any event, thanks for your help.

Best regards,

Raymond W. Holcomb .
